Advisement to client – Official bankruptcy forms will be completed using the information that you give in these work sheets and others, and you will be required to sign a declaration stating under penalty of perjury that the information is true and correct. A failure to disclose assets in a bankruptcy case is a federal crime punishable by imprisonment for up to 5 years in prison and by a fine. In addition, a failure to provide complete and accurate information on your bankruptcy forms may result in dismissal of your case, which means that your debts will not be discharged. Also, a debt owed to a creditor who is not listed on your bankruptcy forms or whose address is not listed or incorrect will probably not be discharged, in which case you will remain liable to that creditor after the bankruptcy case.

MEAN'S TEST ANALYSIS

NOTES: This test comes from the 2005 changes to the law. It is imperative that you complete this form in order for us to help you. Please do not skip this step. Review the example below for directions on what to include.

- All income must be separated by employers and individual receiving the income.
- All income must be gross (before taxes and other deductions).
 - List all income in the month actually received, not the month it was payable.
 - Make sure to include tips and bonuses in the month they were received.
 - If your income is commission-based, then list the exact amount earned each month.
 - Business income:
 - If earned as a sole proprietor - list all income
 - If received through an LLC, S or C Corporation - include only the income you actually received from the business
 - Include retirement income
 - Include disability income, unless it is Social Security Disability
 - DO NOT INCLUDE SOCIAL SECURITY OR SOCIAL SECURITY DISABILITY
 - Include all monies received from any source, including money from cashing in retirement accounts, sales of large items, tax refunds, etc. Identify the source.
 - RENTS: include money from rents (after deducting amount paid for mortgage/HOA/utilities, etc).
 - If someone is living with you - include their net income even if they never give it to you. To calculate net income deduct their own expenses such as: taxes, insurance, expenses related to vehicles, medical, credit cards, student loans, other housing, business debts, etc.
 - include all monies received from gifts or loans from friends or relatives.
- The income must be for a full month; therefore use the last full 6 months, do not include the current month.

Yes No Are you (or your spouse) a disabled vet?

Yes No Are you (or your spouse) currently or within the last 18 months on active duty or performing duties for homeland security?

Name	Employer/Other

Example: John and Mary are filling out this form on the 23rd of the June. They have a renter and their mother has been giving them $200.00 a month for the last 5 months.

Name	Employer/Other	May	April	March	February	January	December
John	ABC Plumbing	891.12	218.17	809.62	951.00	514.52	733.54
	Joe's Bar & Grill	230.00	415.00	213.75	450.00	120.31	1,213.52
	Renter	300.00	300.00	300.00	300.00	300.00	300.00
Mary	$ From Mother	200.00	200.00	200.00	200.00	200.00
	Gifts	899.00	899.00	899.00	899.00	899.00	845.00
	Pension	1,012.00	1,012.00	1,012.00	1,012.00	1,012.00	1,012.00
	Yard Sales	300.00	150.00	1200.00	130.00	240.00	130.00

If your average gross income exceeds the following you will need to answer the rest of the questions set out below. Average gross income is determined by adding together all income for the last full 6 months and dividing it by 6. Include everyone who lives in your home. If more than 4 people live in your home add $575 per month. (These numbers change over time, so please check with us for the correct information.)

One person	Two People	3 people	Four people
$3,550/month	$4,617/month	$4,972/month	$5,593.75/month

Additional questions - answer only if your income exceeds the amount set forth above. Each of these amounts are to be the average monthly amount you actually spend.

Instructions for the following questions: These questions pertain NOT to what you actually paid or received over the last six months. Instead, these expenses are those that you will expend or should expend in the future (e.g.: what is the correct amount you should be deducting from your paycheck(s), if you want, but do not have life insurance, disability insurance, or health savings plan, etc.)

- Include all expenses, those deducted from your paychecks AND those that you pay directly in cash or by check.
- If your income fluctuates then add all taxes for the 6 months above, including anticipated taxes on 1099 income, and divide by 6.
- If you are paid once a week then multiply the taxes from one paycheck by 52 and divide by 12 to come up with your true monthly taxes.
- If you are paid every two weeks then multiply the taxes from one paycheck by 26 and divide by 12 to come up with your true monthly taxes.

- 1) Average monthly taxes (federal, state, FICA, social security, Medicare, self-employment, etc). If your income fluctuates then add taxes for the 6 months above and divide by 6. If married add both figures together as one number $_____
- 2) Mandatory payroll deductions (employer forces you to pay) $_____
- 3) Life insurance - monthly premium: $_____
- 4) Court ordered payments (such as child support/alimony that you must pay) $_____
- 5) Education expenses for employment or physically/mentally challenged child $_____
- 6) Childcare costs $_____
- 7) Health insurance (include dental and all other insurance) $_____
- 8) Health care such as co-pays, eye-glasses, dental, etc (out-of-pocket, not paid by insurance) $_____

- 14) Charitable contributions $_____
- 15) Additional business expenses that are not reimbursed by your employer(s) $_____
- 16) Amount withheld to repay loans from retirement accounts $_____

Additional issues:

- 1) Amount of back taxes that you owe $_____ Year(s) tax debt due: _____
- 2) If you are behind on payments to secured creditors (house or car):
 - Amount owed to bring loan current: $_____ Lender: _____
 - Amount owed to bring loan current: $_____ Lender: _____
 - Amount owed to bring loan current: $_____ Lender: _____
 - Amount owed to bring loan current: $_____ Lender: _____

FRAUD & CONCEALMENT PROHIBITED

11 U.S.C. § 342(b)(2)(A) and (B)

Debtor’s Duties in Bankruptcy

If you decide to file bankruptcy, it is important that you understand the following:

- 1. Some or all of the information you provide in connection with your bankruptcy will be filed with the bankruptcy court on forms or documents that you will be required to sign and declare as true under penalty of perjury.
- 2. A person who knowingly and fraudulently conceals assets or makes a false oath or statement under penalty of perjury in connection with a bankruptcy case shall be subject to a fine, imprisonment, or both.
11 U.S.C. § 342(b)(2)(A)
- 3. All information you provide in connection with your bankruptcy case is subject to examination by the Attorney General.

IMPORTANT INFORMATION ABOUT BANKRUPTCY

11 U.S.C. § 527(b)

IMPORTANT INFORMATION ABOUT BANKRUPTCY ASSISTANCE SERVICES FROM AN ATTORNEY

If you decide to seek bankruptcy relief, you can represent yourself, you can hire an attorney to represent you, or you can get help in some localities from a bankruptcy petition preparer who is not an attorney

THE LAW REQUIRES AN ATTORNEY OR BANKRUPTCY PETITION PREPARER TO GIVE YOU A WRITTEN CONTRACT SPECIFYING WHAT THE ATTORNEY OR BANKRUPTCY PETITION PREPARER WILL DO FOR YOU AND HOW MUCH IT WILL COST.

1. Ask to see the contract before you hire anyone. The following information helps you understand what must be done in a routine bankruptcy case to help you evaluate how much service you need. Although bankruptcy can be complex, many cases are routine.
2. Before filing a bankruptcy case, either you or your attorney should analyze your eligibility for different forms of debt relief available under Bankruptcy Code and which form of relief is most likely to be beneficial for you. Be sure you understand the relief you can obtain and its limitations.
3. To file a bankruptcy case, documents called a Petition, Schedules and Statement of Financial Affairs, as well as in some cases a Statement of Intention need to be prepared correctly and filed with the bankruptcy court. You will have to pay a filing fee to the bankruptcy court. Once your case starts, you will have to attend the required first meeting of creditors where you may be questioned by a court official called a “trustee” and by creditors.
4. If you choose to file a chapter 7 case, you may be asked by a creditor to reaffirm a debt. You may want help deciding whether to do so. A creditor is not permitted to coerce you into reaffirming your debts.
5. If you choose to file a chapter 13 case in which you repay your creditors what you can afford over 3 to 5 years, you may also want help with preparing your chapter 13 plan and with the confirmation hearing on your plan which will be before a bankruptcy judge.
6. If you select another type of relief under the Bankruptcy Code other than chapter 7 or chapter 13, you will want to find out what should be done from someone familiar with that type of relief.
7. Your bankruptcy case may also involve litigation. You are generally permitted to represent yourself in litigation in bankruptcy court, but only attorneys, not bankruptcy petition preparers, can give you legal advice.

FULL DISCLOSURE & ACCURACY

11 U.S.C. § 527(a)(2) –

If you file bankruptcy –

- A. The information that you provide to your attorney, the bankruptcy trustee, and the court in the course of your bankruptcy, both before and after you file your bankruptcy petition, must be complete, accurate and truthful.
- B. All of your assets (everything you own that has value, such as real estate, personal items, vehicles, money, etc.) and all of your liabilities (all of your debts) are required to be completely and accurately disclosed in the documents filed to start your case, and the replacement value of each asset must be stated in those documents where requested after reasonable inquiry to establish their value. The value should be your best understanding of how much it would cost you to replace the item in the same or similar condition.
- C. You must provide your attorney with a monthly budget, including your current monthly income, all of your expenses, and the amount of your income that is left over after deduction of expense. In listing your income and expenses, try to avoid guessing or estimating, and do your best effort to be accurate and truthful.

For income, you are required to provide information about all sources of your income, including your employment, and government assistance you may receive, social security, pension or other retirement income, income from side jobs, investment income, and similar sources.

- D. The information that you provide to your bankruptcy attorney, the bankruptcy trustee, or the bankruptcy judge may be audited and will be available for inspection by the office of the United States Trustee, which is a branch of the U.S. Department of Justice.

If you fail to honestly and fully provide information about your property, income, expenses, and other financial circumstances, your case could be dismissed, and you could be subject to criminal sanctions.
